

Kiyoikaze Iaido Federation

«Noble Wind Iaido Federation»

Security

1. Insurance

An autonomous dojo must hold a civil liability insurance policy with regards to its activities, its administrators and the instructors who teach there. The policy must include the “Kiyoikaze Iaido Federation” as an additional insured organization for the relevant clauses in order to cover guest instructors or during seminars.

2. Iai To

The dojo’s chief instructor or the instructor responsible for teaching in the dojo must verify the quality of the swords used by their students. He must neither tolerate nor accept a sword that does not offer the best manufacturing, or security warranties. Ornamental swords or swords that show characteristics that may jeopardize the security of other practitioners must not be used to practice the art.

3. Space

At all times, the instructor must make sure each student has a minimum safe space to practice.

4. Behaviour

The instructor must make sure students practice in a safe manner and follow his directions. A student who violates those directions must be informed of the rules of discipline. If he refuses to comply he must be asked to stop practicing and to leave the premises.

5. Teaching

The dojo's chief instructor must make sure all subordinate instructors respect and apply the security rules in place.

6. Emergency

A responsible dojo should have a first aid kit. Emergency procedures as well as the relevant emergency phone numbers should be posted in a place that is visible and known to every practitioner.
